THE GRAVESEND TRACK AFFAIR.

As was to have been expected, the exnordinary state of affairs at the Gravesend race-track has led to the institution of a literary matter number of suits for damages, and yet more of them are promised. From these prodings and their outcome the Brooklyn Jockey Cmb management will probably learn a lesson or two about the rights of the public in public places. Over-patient as an people may be in some mattern, they have not yet arrived at the stage Pennsylvania farmer without doubt. where they will calmly and without protest nit to being unlawfully imprisoned behind high board tences at the whim of a ace-track owner.

That some such idea as this has been hered at Gravesend already is made eviout by the fact that there has been a slight at the track. The relaxation is not complete as is to be desired, as it should be, but at least some the more brutal features have been eliminated from the special police accomplished in equine lors. service. In the fact that his extraordinary have been of no avail in the direction toward which he had pointed them - that of knocking out the business of the pool-roomsident Dwynn should see, if he sees it where else, good reason for ceasing to oloy his unusual methods of warfare. He will continually hurt his cause by continually imposing on the public. Let him onduct his fight strongly as he will, but not by means which are themselves violations of law.

THE CODE IN CHICAGO.

An Austrian nobleman and a hot young outherner went out in Jackson Park, in Chicago, Sunday, and waged bloody warfare with each other over a pretty actress. Th Austrian was seriouly wounded, and may Mortality or excessive bloodshed wil not place the duel on any higher plane in this country. It is an exotic which does not flourish on this soil in any case. In France and Germany they have got this duet at arms systematized so that no great harm is done. It amounts to a morning stroll and a little sword exercise or target practice, and is probably very healthy and onducive to longevity.

But when young men go out in a Chicago park and kill each other for the sake of an otress it is time to dock the code of the duello. We don't want duels here. The courts will adjust these little difficulties even when repairs are sought for damages to honor. No private executions in the

Our cranks of to-day are not of the Dor Quixcte order as a rule. A man out West as equalled any eccentricity of the old Spanish knight's, however. He bought a mill, made clay balls and a machine that would throw them a long distance and then began to pelt a town. He was arrested in this little vagary, and he had a manuscript story telling all about his exploits. How could such an imaginative thing as this be nurtured in the prosaic atmosphere of

There is nothing like novelty. HATTIE DANIELS, the daughter of GEO. H. DANIELS. General Passenger Agent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, gave a ocomotive party to a round dozen of her school chums. The girls had a jolly ride in the cab. It must have been distracting to the engineer and the others who ran the notive to have such a crowd of pretty girls along. But they liked it, and so did

Aspirants to the honors of a detective would do well to show their talent in this My Marty's a-c direction by spotting fraud in advertiseisoments which hold forth great promise. Before she joined "Tar and Tarias" Miss Bertram sang a tenor part in Conried's "Kipg's Fool" company, and she says that this burt her voice very seriously.

> Sydney Rosenfeld has just signed a contract with Manager Miliward, of the Chicago Audiorlum, to write a burlesque to be presented there during the World's Fair.

> An English critic writing of the play "Cari's Folly." in which there is a great realistic man can have his hatr cut, a shave, and sham poo, in three minutes. This would give the ow comedian a great gag in "Next." A boot dacking play, and a melodrama with blacking play, and a melodrama with a sau-age factory sensation are still to be heard

The gossips say that Augustin Daly would not permit John Drew to take a curtain call in leaston the other Light. The audience clam-ored for him, but he came not. Cruel, cruel

Sic. De Vivo save that his star, Mile, Marie Sig. De Vivo save that his star, Mile. Marle Decca, will be surrounded by an excellent concert company next season. He has been working very hard to bring this young woman prominently before the public, masmuch as he has great faith in her. Sig. De Vivo attributes her unfortunate debut with the Emma Juck Opera Company to Harlem to the fact that she had not relearesed with the orchestra, and being extremely near-sighted, could not see the directing baton.

It is said that Miss Coghlan will be managed by George Wotherspoon, the snave and agree-able young man who went to Australia with "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and did good work "Cinder-Eila" is the name of the next bur-lesque to be done by the Gasety Company in London, at Christinas. The name alone tells the story. No other organization believes in the story. Miss Marion Singer, of the "Wang" com

Little Shavers.

[From Kate Pield's Washington, ] "The governess was awful cross to-day, "The governess was awful cross to-day," the children said in the evening. "West, mamms, maybe we were dad; but we soon eached her. I gave her a big, rosy apple; Fanny gave her a hearly size, and Fred gave a premise to becave better hereafter."

"And, Bessle, what did you give her?"

"I" stammered Bessle, "I-I-gave her the—she—slip!" not represent one-fourth their value.
